Congratz!! Your computer is configured for access to Central University of Kerala Virtual Private Network. You can browse the journals and network services offered by Central University of Kerala from your own computer.

15. Once the required journals are accessed click on "Disconnect" to disconnect from the VPN service.

Important Note: Do not use your computer for general browsing when the VPN service is connected since that would cause heavy data usage both at your end and also strain the resources of University. It is humbly requested not to misuse the services offered as part of VPN which might land you up in trouble.
