ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

As the rest of the world step back, you step forward....

Thank you to all the dedicated healthcare workers serving on the front lines of the COVID-19 pandemic. Thank you: first responders, doctors, physicians, nurses, pharmacists, paramedics, lab technicians and all other healthcare workers. Thank you to the scientists who started working on the vaccine even before it was c the pandemic would become. Thank you to the thousands of clinical trial volunteers who risked their health to take an experimental vaccine for the benefit of others. My thoughts are with all those presently impacted by the Corona virus. Thank you to the disaster and public health researchers who have screamed into the void for the past year.

I extend my wholehearted gratitude to Prof. M.S. John, Research Guide, Department of International Relations and Politics, Central University of Kerala, Kasaragod, who, despite his busy schedule, has been patient with me, and guided me throughout the development of this research.

My sincere thanks to Dr. Jayaprasad, Head of the Department of International Relations and Politics, who enlightened me with a wide range of possibilities of research areas, great knowledge and motivation.

I am also greatly indebted to my faculties Dr. Uma Purushothaman, Dr. Gilbert Sebastian, Dr. Lalji Pal, Dr. Reinhart Philip and Office staff Prajeesha. M, Department of International Relations and Politics for their generous help and assistance in manifold ways. My sincere thanks to all my dear friends and Colleagues who have helped me in the course of completion of my research. Without their help this research wouldn't have become successful.

I would like to mention the support system and consideration of my parents who have always been there in my life.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

'Gratitude', to be put in a few words, impossible for me, for the kind of help and support I received from the most kind hearted people in my life. Though a bunch of words are not strong enough to contain the ever-flowing gush of gratitude from the depth of my heart, I believe this page becomes a stronger reflection of that. I begin my words of gratitude acknowledging that almighty God, who has always been showering his blessings on me in the disguise of each one mentioned below and others, who have contributed to my effort. I am especially thankful to Dr.P.C Prasanna Kumar Sir, Research Guide and Professor, Department of International Relations and Political Science, Central University of Kerala, Kasaragod. Without his constant guidance, it wouldn't have been possible for me to successfully finish this research. I feel a touch of pride being under his guidance, and to complete this research. It is indeed an honour to me. My sincere thanks to Dr. Jayaprasad, Head of the Department of International Relations and Political Science, who extended his full support for fulfilment of the study.

I am also indebted to my faculties, Dr. M.S John, Dr. Gilbert Sir, Dr. Reinheart sir, Dr. Uma Purushothaman for their benevolence and support in the course of my research. I do not know how to express the overwhelming help and support I received from my friends, Aaromal L, Shameer C.T, Dileep T, Jishnu P

I also thank each of the respondents for having patience with me and for cooperating. Last but not the least I thank my family; my parents who showered their blessings on me, and my siblings who always kept me in their prayers.
